Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine if there were differences in the prevalence of musculoskeletal disorders between two groups of nurses working in different units of a hospital. The sample included 100 nurses from the medical-surgical unit and 100 nurses from the intensive care unit. Data were collected by means of a questionnaire that assessed the prevalence of musculoskeletal disorders according to the NIOSH criteria. Results showed that the prevalence of musculoskeletal disorders was higher among nurses from the intensive care unit than among nurses from the medical-surgical unit. The results also indicated that the prevalence of musculoskeletal disorders was higher among nurses who worked longer shifts and had more years of experience.
